WICHITA MARKETS.

Receipts of Live Stock at the Union Stock Yards during the past 24 hours-322 cattle, 1814 hogs. There was a good supply of cattle on the market but there was very little demand, and less than 20 head changed hands. Speculators and shippers seem to have torsaken the market lately, and will probably stay out until eastern markets settle down or until they can at least guess somewhere near what the market is going to be. Two hundred head of today's cattle came through from Texas and stopped for feed and rest, and were not offered for sale. The supply of hogs was moderate. The market opened about 21-2 cents higher than yesterday's close, and the packers' grades sold from $3.47 1-2 down to $3.45. The market was active from the opening, the local packers taking everything except the heavy grades and those were sold for Mexico trade at strong figures. The close was firm.

The first money one really earns has a value and an importance peculiarly its own-a value which is increased if the money is earned by hard and faithful labor. One man, at least, will never forget how he felt on receiving his first wages. He was a boy of 15 at the time, a western farmer's son. Early one morning a neighbor appeared unexpectedly at the door.

"My boy's down sick, today," he said, "an' I wondered if I couldn't git your Jimmy to drap corn for me in a piece R. C. ISRAEL | I'm just finishing up. Of course I'd ex-

I had fairly to trot before him, while he frequently encouraged me to renewed speed by saying: "Hurry along, my son! Git along as

The Brass Mule Cure.

A traveler, recently returned from Pekin, tells us that he saw a method of cure which may be new to some of our readers. In a temple outside one of the city gates is to be found a brass mule of life size, supposed to have wonderful healing properties. Patients suffering from every imaginable disease seek this temple to obtain a cure. The method pursued is as follows: Supposing you suffer from sciatica, you go with all speed to this famous temple, and, having discovered the particular part of the brass mule corresponding to the painful region of your own body, you must rub the animal a certain number of times and then with the same hand shampoo your own disabled member, and then-well, then the pain goes. The special feature of this method of cure is its delightful simplicity. Is your tooth aching? Just scrub the mule's teeth and afterward your own, and be observed that the Chicago fast express | voila! the cure is complete. Have you an ulcer of the cornea? Pass the tips of your fingers to and fro over the particular eyeball of the mule, and then with well regulated pressure rub repeatedly the afflicted eye. The mule has unhappily lost his sight during the many years he has been engaged in his benevolent work, the eyeballs, we are told, having been gradually worn away, as the result of constant friction, until now you have only the empty orbits to operate upon. The animal is patched in all directions with fresh pieces of brass put on to cover holes produced by the constant friction of eager patients, and a new, perfectly whole mule stands ready at hand awaiting the day when his old colleague, having fallen to pieces in the service, shall give him an opportunity of likewise benefiting posterity.-North China Medical

The day is not far distant when qualis will be preserved in every state in the Union, and the privilege to shoot them over a given territory will be paid for in good sums. Indeed, there are already established in this country quite a number of preserves where the right to shoot is purchased. At present there is no great necessity for preserves, as the St. Louis to Colorado via Wichita.

The birds breed so rapidly and prosper so well under good treatment that the fashion for quail preserves is taking a firm hold, and in time will become quite general.—Chicago Times.

> Love, amidst the other graces in this world, is like a cathedral tower, which begins on the earth, and, at first, is surrounded by the other parts of the structure. But at length, rising above buttressed wall, and arch, and parapet, and pinnacle, it shoots spire like many a foot right into the air, so high that the huge cross on its summit glows like a spark in the morning light, and shines like a star in the evening sky, when the rest of the pile is enveloped in darkness. So Love bere is surrounded by the other graces,
